

Act No. 128 (H.875). Judiciary; motor vehicles; driving with license suspended

An act relating to fines for driving with license suspended

This act makes several changes to the Judicial Bureau's remedies for failure to pay traffic fines. The Judicial Bureau will be permitted to extend time periods for paying civil penalties for traffic violations, to cap license suspension at 120 days for failure to pay a traffic ticket, and to suspend a license in contempt proceedings. The act also eliminates credit bureau reporting for failure to pay traffic tickets, and provides that prior DLS offenses will no longer count as priors once the amount due is paid.
